Dear Dr. Lo,

Re: Webb, Laraine
HCN: 1761 772 852EM
DOB: 01-Apr-1945

I had a telephone follow-up with Laraine today after a 6 month interval in regards to her myasthenia gravis. It sounds as though she has become quite isolated and lonely throughout the pandemic and her fibromyalgia pain has unfortunately flared and become more problematic. She states that she is not very physically active because of this pain.

She has had nothing to suggest a relapse of her myasthenia.

She does remain on the Imuran 150 mg daily and Vitamin D 10,000 IU 3 days per week. She is using Aleve for her fibromyalgia pain because the CBD oil continued to cause GI reflux symptoms.

She did have both cataracts removed in June and July and this was very helpful and definitely a positive thing for her.

She has still not attended for her lab work in regards to her LFTs and I have re-sent her the lab form so she can get this done. As you may recall there was a minor transaminitis that I wanted to follow up on.

I will await that lab work and we will plan to meet again in the office in 6 months' time

Sincerely,

Caroline Geenen, MD, FRCPC
